++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Generally dull on Monday but turning brighter tomorrow.

Today:
A damp start for Cumbria with showery rain, but dying down and turning patchier as it moves across the region into southern areas by the afternoon. Feeling cooler than Sunday. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Any leftover rain in the south will soon clear, leaving the night largely dry with clear spells at times. Feeling chilly under any clear skies. Minimum temperature 4 deg C (39 deg F).

Tuesday:
A cool start on Tuesday, but largely dry with periods of sunshine across the region. Turning cloudier overnight. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Cloudy with outbreaks of rain on Wednesday, and then a risk of some further rain at times on Thursday and Friday.
